Be prepared for emergencies

You're never ready for a crisis, but you can be prepared.

EMERGENCY CHECKLISTS INSIDE

Are you and your family prepared, in the event of an unforeseen situation?

When you're in a crisis, it's hard to think calmly and clearly about the best course of action. That's why John Hancock Funds strongly urges you to do the preparation now, when you presumably have time to think.

There are two types of emergencies: PERSONAL and FINANCIAL

Advance preparation for personal emergencies means knowing the names and phone numbers of people to contact, medications and dosages, allergies, medical insurance coverage, daycare providers, children's teachers, veterinarian, etc. Financial emergency preparation includes knowing account information like bank accounts, investment accounts, mortgages, loans and credit cards; and also the right people to call for the situation at hand — financial adviser, insurance agent, lawyer, CPA etc.

Make life simpler for yourself

In an emergency you might need to know some of this information — but in an emergency, you might not have time to think or time to waste. Set aside 30 minutes to complete this brief information overview today and save yourself a few headaches down the road. Make sure you keep it up to date and in an easily accessible place where you always have it at hand.
